

Do you qualify for help with your electric bill? The Low-Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP) is a federally funded utility assistance program that helps eligible households pay a portion of their home energy costs by providing a one-time per year benefit. The application period started December 18, 2023 and ends March 29, 2024.

The following summary describes basic LIEAP eligibility provisions. Additional information may be obtained by calling 1-888-369-4777 or by applying online at:

Persons Eligible

To qualify, applicants must meet the following requirements:

1. An adult living at the address must be personally responsible for paying the heating costs incurred at the current residence, payable either to the landlord or the fuel vendor.
2. Applicants must demonstrate a recent history of payments toward purchase of the primary heating energy.

The combined gross income (before deductions) of all persons living at the address may not exceed 150% of the federal poverty level according to the guidelines listed below.

Benefit levels vary according to the following factors:

- Household income
- Number of persons living at the address
- Type of dwelling
- Type of heating fuel
